Text1 ;Why is my favorite movie: The Dark Knight holds up today as the best superhero movie ever made, is because it is the most grounded and brilliant take on a real-life interpretation of, not just Batman, but a superhero.

Text2: In the film, Bruce Wayne / Batman (Bale), Police Lieutenant James Gordon (Oldman) and District Attorney Harvey Dent (Eckhart) form an alliance to dismantle organized crime in Gotham City, but are menaced by an anarchistic mastermind known as the Joker (Ledger), who seeks to undermine Batman's influence and throw the city into anarchy.

Text1 ;Why is my favorite movie: Beyond imagination! After watching this I couldn't stop thinking about it. Even after 20 years of the release, the plot still offers raw insights. The story deals with white-collar employees who are frustrated with their capitalistic life.

Text2: The film stars Edward Norton as a mundane working man whose life is changed when he meets the mysterious Tyler Durden (Brad Pitt) and the two start a club for grown men to beat each other up. The dark humor, brutal violence, and warped philosophies make it a thrilling watch and the twist ending makes you want to rewatch the movie again and again.
